By Susan Anderson, General Manager

We at the station always look forward to July which is our anniversary month. On July 26, KPFK will be 26 years old and when you check your Folio listings you will see that we have a treat for you on that date, a documentary that examines KPFK's history, that will intrigue, astonish, educate, and move you. The documentary, produced by KPFK veterans Lucia Chapelle and Mike Hodel, is an open and candid view of listener sponsored radio, a view from the inside.

Of course, this month we will be offering special programs between July 8th and July 21st as a special incentive for anyone who hasn't yet taken the step toward becoming listeners' sponsors. We are also looking for new subscribers, but our fund drive schedule is so special, we know our old friends and subscribers will enjoy with the satisfaction that comes from providing us with the support that makes it all possible.

Speaking of support, and since this is our birthday month, I want to share with you a snippet from the past, an excerpt from an article attributed to Elisa Knight Thompson, one of the Pacifica pioneers. The article was written during the summer of 1953.

"One night in March of 1946, a group of people sat around a table talking. It may have appeared to be an ordinary conversation, but it began an extraordinary series of events which eventually created a radio station unique in the history of radio broadcasting.

The conversation centered on the people and the groups concerned with the quest for peace. A world resounding with belligerent propaganda continued to move toward war, gangsterism, and fascism. The people who gathered that evening decided to communicate social and cultural alternatives to people outside their mailing list and public gatherings. There was no extensive public medium dedicated to the penetrating examination of political and economic problems and the causes of religious, philosophical and racial antagonisms.

One public medium, as a constant voice, at the time entered the consciousness of men and women in America: the radio. A vital instrument in the environment through which the individual forms his understanding and judgement of the world and other men.

The conversation that March night considered the incalculable value of radio as an instrument for the full distribution of public information, as an aid to creative activities to enrich the standards of art and entertainment, and as a contribution to a lasting understanding between nations and between individuals of all nations.

Such a radio station had never existed. Such a radio station should exist. What could they do to bring it about?

The first question was, of course, money.

The question remains money in our dollar-driven society. We thank you who have contributed to KPFK already. Shall we commit ourselves to increasing and expanding listener sponsorship for at least another 26 years?
